Our rule: Buyer's Choice. You will receive our products according to your specifications in any shape and form you choose – safely packed, individually labeled and delivered directly to your point of sale to suit your needs.

Thanks to our expertise ...

You will profit from our individual 360° guidance
We analyze the cost effectiveness of the products of your choice in advance and advise on quantities, packaging, and market opportunities.

Enjoy the benefits of one-stop shopping:
Our excellent contacts with international manufacturers and storage in Germany guarantee short delivery times, even for large order quantities, as well as the immediate availability of commonly used products. Delivered directly to your point of sale, if required.

Get full service from a single source including all aspects of logistics:
We deliver your products fast - and on request ready packed and labeled - either to you or your PoS of choice. As far as packaging is concerned, you may choose from a broad range of variants – from membrane cans and stand-up pouches all the way to dispensers and bottles.

International Network of Manufacturers

- Profound market knowledge
- Comprehensive raw material knowhow
- Many years of cooperation with international manufactures

German Gründlichkeit

- Ingredients by 100 % as specified
- Quality control in accredited German laboratories
- Physical inspections of supplier productionsite
- Storage of raw-materials in Germany
- Focus on sustainability and fair trade

Point-of-Sale Solutions

- Individual guidance on quantities, packaging and market opportunities
- Full service packing in end-consumer packings including labeling
- Logistics and delivery to your company or PoS

Quality. Be Sure.

Quality is our top priority.
All our products meet the highest European standards. Physical inspections of our suppliers' productionsites – to make sure all specifications are always met 100% – are guaranteed; same as our close co-operation with approved and accredited German laboratories.

We analyze every single batch thoroughly once it arrives in Europe. You can be absolutely sure that you will distribute only the best market-conform products.

Your point-of-sale solutions

For you, Nature's Finest means:
Thanks to our direct contacts with manufacturers and immediate access to a packing plant, we are able to supply both – standard products and products tailor-made for individual specifications – for all botanical extracts, fruit powders or natural sweeteners.

Buyer's Choice – we provide our high-quality product range in forms such as:

- powders
- capsules
- tablets
- bulk
- raw material blends
- liquid products

Packed in:

- membrane cans
- stand-up pouches (Doypacks)
- dispensers
- bottles

We can handle the whole process as a single source provider; from manufacturing and quality control all the way to packaging and delivery.

Representing a medium-sized company of the food, dietary supplement or animal feed industry, you know:

It requires a lot of time and resources to attain the same level of safety, quality and time savings as a major corporation, when it comes to purchasing, processing and distributing raw materials – especially when organic quality is a must.

Or it requires getting a partner who supplies everything you need from a single source.

We – NATURE'S INGREDIENTS – are just this one partner you need.
As specialists in Europe-wide trade with botanical and non-botanical raw materials in the form of powders and extracts we take as much work out of your hands as possible. And assure that you receive customized products of selected quality.

We guarantee that:

- all ingredients are delivered according to declared specifications.
- quality control in accredited German laboratories.
- deadlines are met and deliveries can be made „just in time".
- from the standard product to the individual raw material, only quality-tested producers are part of the supply chain
- we take over the entire organizational management of producers and suppliers.

Overview: Your advantages with NATURE‘S INGREDIENTS as your partner

- All raw materials from a single source – in time and, on request, packed in packaging materials that are in conformity with end-customer specifications, labeled, and delivered to your point of sale
- Fair price-performance ratio and a maximum of transparency along the supply chain
- Guaranteed constant high (organic) certified quality thanks to constant product controls in German laboratories
- High flexibility and availability related to quantities and the composition of the raw materials of your choice
- Consultancy and conceptualization of everything concerning the customized products to meet your expectations
- Direct contact with producers and a broad international network
- Sustainability in all areas of business: logistics, long-term supplier relations and established partners, environmental awareness and fair trade
